

SCHOOLHOUSE FIRE TAKES 77TH LIFE AS CASHIER DIES

Camden Man Gives Life In Vain Attempt To Save
His Mother.

SCORES OF BODIES IN ONE BIG GRAVE

Others In Hospital, Burned
And Injured Leaping
From Building.

Camden, S. C., May 19.—This grief-stricken community has still lower today as dawn brought the announcement of the death of Thomas Humphries, the seventy-seventh fatality of the Cleveland school disaster.

Humphries, assistant cashier of the Bank of Camden, gave his life in a vain attempt to save his mother from the burning building. His aged father also lost his life.

Others in the hospital here suffering slight burns and broken limbs from leaping from the second floor of the little country school house are reported to be out of danger.

70 Bodies In One Grave

Many who escaped, paralyzed with grief until today, told of many who made brave attempts to save lives only to lose their own. Hundreds visited the tear-soaked mound in Beulah church yard which covers more than three-score bodies burned beyond recognition now lying in the huge grave only a short distance from the dead embers of the fatal blaze.

In driving over the six miles of winding road from here to the rural school site one passes many farm cottages and death has crossed the threshold of almost every one.

"Britt Croft lived there," whispered a local farmer as he drove toward the large grave. "His wife and two children were burned up."

"And J. R. Phillips lives over yonder," said another, pointing over the cotton fields. "He lost his wife and three children."

So the journey continued over the same path which the Grim Reaper passed. Hardly a house was missed, one little farmhouse was completely deserted. On the steps sat the faithful "hound dog," patiently waiting his master, mistress and the two children none of whom will ever return.

Flows stand idly in the field never to be guided again by the hands that held them only a few hours ago.

Most of the dead lived together, died together, and now lie in one great heap in the Beulah church grave-yard.

The mother, who was lifted from the smoldering ruins with her baby clasp closely to her bosom; J. E. Pierce, who saved two women from the flames and died in an attempt to rescue a third, and so on, 49 children ranging from small tots to youths of 18 who were on that fateful night receiving their diplomas, all are today resting under the same great mound.

A hillock of the dead stands out like a giant among other graves of the cemetery.

CHURCH OBSERVES COMMUNITY NIGHT

Columbiana Pastors Aid In Dedication Of New
M. E. Edifice.

"Community Night" was observed Friday night at the newly dedicated Methodist church in Columbiana when pastors of the other churches of that town participated in the program. Among the speakers were the Rev. A. Harold, of the Brethren church; Rev. E. F. Weist of the Grace Reformed church; Rev. C. S. McGraw of the Presbyterian church; Rev. C. E. Krumm of the Lutheran church, and the Methodist pastor, Rev. A. G. Rupert.

Lymus Kupert, stood at the organ and Mrs. Ray Todd sang a solo, "O Lord, Most Holy," with the violin obligato by Harry Hatzel of Columbiana. The church auditorium was filled with visitors.

On Sunday a large class will receive the baptism which is to be followed by reception of the new members and communion. Sunday evening the choir will render Gault's "Holy City." William Williams of Leetonia will direct this musical. Mrs. Elmer Coyle is the piano accompanist.

DOUGLAS TO SPEAK TO ROTARY CLUB

F. A. Douglas, editorial writer on the Youngstown Indicator and former Salem man, will speak at the meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday noon at the Elks home. F. R. Pov will be in charge of the day's program.

Eleven Rotarians and their wives were guests Friday night at an inter-city meeting in the Courtland hotel. Canton, at which the Canton Rotary club was host. Dinner was served at 6:30, followed by an address by Harry Atwood of Chicago, noted lecturer and writer. It was one of the most pleasant gatherings the Rotarians have enjoyed for some time. Sam Siddall of Warren, district governor, spoke.

"Sinn Fein Ambassador" Is Arrested Again.

Art O'Brien, m. r.

Art O'Brien, "Sinn Fein ambassador" to London, who forced the house of lords to overrule the courts and grant him a writ of habeas corpus, after he and a hundred other Sinn Feiners had been arrested in England and deported to Irish jails, was immediately rearrested on a charge of seditious conspiracy.

NEW JERSEY GIRL, 20, IS SLAIN; BODY FOUND NEAR HOME

Teeth Knocked Out But No
External Signs Of
Other Violence.

Paterson, N. J., May 19.—Miss Jessie Pickema, pretty 20-year-old silk mill worker, was found mysteriously slain early today. Her body was found behind a barn on North Second st., a few blocks from her home on Barnert place.

Several of her teeth had been knocked out. Police were immediately summoned to ascertain if she had been strangled.

There were no other external signs of violence on the body. The young woman left her home last evening to attend a movie, accompanied by a chum, Miss Mattie Tanis. When she left the motion picture show she indicated to Miss Tanis that she was going directly home.

When Miss Pickema had not arrived home early this morning her mother started to look for her. A block from the Pickema home she saw a crowd collected. She went there and saw the body of her daughter.

PYTHIANS TO HEAR REV. FRANK ALBUS

Rev. Frank Albus, former rector of the Church of Our Saviour in this city, now a resident of Erie, Pa., will speak at the church here Sunday night, when members of the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters will attend the service in a body.

Rev. Albus is widely known in Salem and left Salem to go to Evansville, Ill. From there he went to Sebring, Fla., and recently has resided in Erie.

Kneasel Is Chosen Palestine Principal

R. E. Kneasel, for the last two years principal and coach at the Columbiana High school, has been elected principal of the East Palestine high school.

It has been decided to hold a nine month's session of school next year instead of eight months, the length of this year's term. The teachers salaries will be increased to comply with the state schedule.

Rebekahs To Elect Officers Next Week

Two applications for membership were presented at a meeting of Home lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, Friday night.

Mrs. Lawrence Strawn's division presented a program of readings and music at the close of the business session. At the next meeting of the lodge election of noble grand and vice grand will be held.

Kiefer Selected To Head Niles Schools

Niles, May 19.—Prof. R. J. Kiefer of Bellefontaine has been engaged as superintendent of the Niles schools for a one-year term at an annual salary of $4,400. The new superintendent is at present a student at the Ohio teachers association.

Mahoning Co. Health Commissioner Quits

Youngstown, May 19.—Resignation of Dr. John Dean Boylan, health commissioner today. It is to be effective as soon as statutory work in which Dr. Boylan is engaged, is completed, probably about Sept. 1. No successor has been chosen.

Champion Shopper Leaves House Full Sold At Auction

Two Tons Of Candy Bought
In Grants' Time, Jewelry, Etc., Included.

Galion, O., May 19.—Two tons of candy, some of it dating back to the presidential administration of Gen. Grant, is among the stuff to be sold here when the effects of Mrs. Emma Lee, who died, are auctioned off today. Mrs. Lee was known as Galion's champion "shopper."

Jar after jar filled with candy, some heart-shaped pieces bearing the inscription "Vote for Grant" were found when her effects were inventoried. Mrs. Lee was the divorced wife of H. D. Lee, Kansas City millionaire.

Among other articles listed for sale today are:

A quart jar filled with jewelry, set with diamonds and precious stones. Twenty-five vacuum cleaners. One gallon jar filled with thimbles. Several baby carriages. Three rooms filled to the brim with bric-a-brac.

American Golfers Come From Behind And Defeat British

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 19.—By as splendid an exhibition of gamesmanship as ever a team of golfers has given, the Americans retained possession of the Walker cup, emblematic of international team supremacy, by outscoring the British in the single matches today, although trailing in five of the eight matches at the end of the morning round.

Today's matches resulted in a veritable landslide for the Americans, who won six of the eight matches, giving them a margin of seven victories to five in the two days play. Dr. C. S. Willing, Portland, Ore., insured a Yankee victory by coming in with a two up and one to play victory over Murray.

Lies Helpless 48 Hours In Church

1 Kenton, May 19.—Smith Johnson 67, caretaker of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church here, died last night, after having lain helpless in the church for 48 hours following a sudden heart attack which left him helpless.

Mrs. Harry Cunningham, a member, went to the church last night on an errand and there found the caretaker near death. He was taken to a hospital and died shortly afterwards. Johnson had gone to the church Wednesday evening.

Basketball Stirs Church Protest

Norwalk, O., May 19.—Havana, a village near here, is deeply wrought up today over the remodeling of the Universalist church here for basketball. The State Universalists' association is investigating, according to reports. It is said the basketball paraphernalia will be removed.

Rolling Pin Used By This Burglar

Philadelphia, May 19.—Miss Rhoda Myers, 20, this city, was choked and beaten on the head with a rolling pin by a burglar who entered her bedroom early today. Physicians believe her skull may be fractured. The intruder escaped. Money and jewelry were taken.

Two Well Dressed Bandits Get $9,000

Philadelphia, May 19.—Two well dressed bandits held up three men carrying the $9,000 payroll of the Nelson Valve Co., and escaped in an automobile with grips containing the money.

PLAN FRESH AIR CAMP FOR UNDERNOURISHED

Head Of Leetonia Schools
Reveals County Plans
For Children.

A proposed fresh air camp for undernourished children of Columbiana county under the direction of the county health board formed the nucleus of a talk by E. P. Stonebreaker, superintendent of the Leetonia public schools, at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of these schools Friday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Leetonia.

There is a probability that this camp will be located at Eagleton's glens, on the Salem-Lisbon rd. It will be held for the two months this summer and will accommodate 27 children at a time.

Another interesting feature of the program was an illustrated address on "Africa" by Dr. W. H. Hudnut, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Youngstown. The pictures shown were ones that Dr. Hudnut had taken in that country while on a trip in the Orient. This lecture was very much appreciated.

The high school orchestra furnished music and Mrs. Merle Stambaugh, the president, presided. Other numbers on the program were: Reading, Miss Alice Kiernan; vocal solo, Mrs. Raymond Smith; piano solo, Margaret Metz.

FARMERS LAUNCH DRIVE FOR LOWER RATES ON FREIGHT

Big Crops Won't Overcome
Loss With High Rates,
Says Farm Bloc.

Washington, May 19.—Fifteen million American farmers have launched a drive through their national farmer organizations to force a reduction in railroad freight rates before the next harvest, Senator Harold, Republican of Oklahoma, a "farm bloc" member, declared today.

Although good crops are assured this year, Harold said, the farmers cannot recover their recent losses unless the cost of transporting crops to market is slashed. The drive for lower freight rates will be centered on obtaining reductions before the next harvest begins.

"A continuation of existing freight rates for one more harvest will completely bankrupt agriculture," Harold declared. "The only hope of American farmers is to obtain lower freights before they begin sending their crops to market. If they fail in this drive, there will be too many shortages in many communities this summer as farm products will stay on the farms."

A special hearing has been granted representatives of the farmers by the interstate commerce commission and their plea for lower freight rates is now under consideration. Farmers also have appealed to President Harding for support of the movement.

A pacific request for restoration of prewar trade rates on farm products was made to the commission. This slash, if granted, will range from 30 to 50 per cent. If no relief is granted the farmers before the next harvest, Harold announced, the fight would be carried into the next congress.

Patrolman Kills Man Who Fails To Halt

Cleveland, May 19.—An unidentified man, suspected of being a burglar, was shot and killed early today by Patrolman Fred Ichman, when he disregarded an order to halt. The officer fired twice. The man was taken to a hospital where he died about 6 o'clock without revealing his identity. A bag filled with brass was found near the body.

Children Hear Tales Of Life In South

Stories of southern life and of negroes were told by Mrs. R. C. Gibbs at the story hour, under the direction of Salem Community Service, Saturday morning at the Salem public library. Ninety-three children assembled to hear the stories, an increase in attendance over last week.

HARDSHIPS TAX HEALTH OF CHINESE CAPTIVES

"Terrible Nightmare The Way We Are Living," Writes
One Of Americans Who Urges Washington To Act
Now; Anti-Foreign Feeling Is Increasing.

Shanghai, May 19.—American and other foreign captives held by bandits in the Shantung mountains are subjected to hardships which are severely taxing their health, according to a letter sent out by one of them—Leon Friedman—and received here today. Brigands have made a second attempt to wreck and raid a train on the Shanghai-Peking line.

The letter from Friedman, which was addressed to Harold Demar, chairman of the chamber of commerce in Shanghai, said in part:

"For God's sake, tell Washington to act now. Bandits have moved to impregnable fortress. There are no cooking utensils and no bedding for sleeping purposes. We are sleeping like pigs. The way we are living here is a terrible nightmare. We fear there will be no release for weeks and perhaps months."

"Aged and sick Chinese captives are being shot and 4 believe they would not hesitate to shoot foreigners if the occasion arises. Four Chinese were hrown over a precipice suffering instant death."

Mass meetings are contemplated to express indignation over the inactivity

Teachers Training 2500 Children For May Day Exercises

Training an army of 2,500 school children of all ages is no mean task, as teachers of the Salem public schools will testify.

For several weeks teachers of all grades and L. E. Bryan, physical teacher in the grade schools, have been at this work, preparing the children for their exercises which will form part of the May day festival next Wednesday afternoon at Reilly field.

The teachers have been drilling the children before and after school at Reilly field and on school lawns, part of every day being devoted to the task.

FLAMES DAMAGE MAIN ST. OFFICE

Fire Is Discovered Early
Saturday In Chisholm
Cigar Store.

A large portion of the floor in the rear office room at the Chisholm news stand and cigar store in Main st., was burned out shortly before 2 a. m. Saturday by fire believed to have originated from electrical wiring beneath the flooring.

The blaze was discovered at 1:50 a. m. by Constable Earl Ritchie as he made a trip through the alley at the rear of the Main st. establishment. Ritchie sent in the alarm to the fire department and the fire was extinguished soon after their arrival.

Had the blaze not been discovered at that time it is probable that the entire building would have been consumed. The walls of the room were damaged and desks and other furnishings were blistered and scorched by the intense heat.

The loss, estimated at about $500, is covered by insurance.

CRUELTY IS BASIS OF JOHNS DIVORCE

Mrs. Mona Johns of Salem, was granted a divorce Friday by Judge J. G. Moore, after she had testified that her husband, David Johns, had treated her with cruelty. Other witnesses testified to his treatment of his wife.

An entry fixing alimony was made in the divorce action filed by Emma Wachsmith against her husband Carl Wachsmith, of Salem by Judge Moore. The husband, within ten days, will pay the wife $25 and $5 each week until further order from the court.

Mayor Ferren Sends Man To County Jail

Mayor Ferren of East Palestine evidently has withdrawn his threat to send all prisoners who have to work out fines assessed in his court to the Canton workhouse. Friday night officials at the county jail were surprised when Chief Warren of East Palestine appeared at the jail towing a Thomas Foy whom he registered as a guest of the county. Foy had been indulging in strong words and costs; Foy may have fined him $50 and was taken to Lisbon to serve out his fine.

Roessler Qualifies in Mt. Union Meet

Chris Roessler, Salem's star athlete, qualified in the preliminaries of the interscholastic field and track meet at Mt. Union college athletic grounds, Saturday, Canton, Youngstown, Akron South, and Jefferson schools were entered.

Each of the schools represented in the meet had men who qualified in the preliminaries which were run on Saturday morning.

Wife Neglects Duty, Salem Man Charges

Merle Shaffer has filed his petition in court for divorce from his wife Grace Shaffer, of this city. Shaffer charges his wife is guilty of gross neglect of duty, that she leaves home for periods of from one day to a week at a time, refusing to cook his meals or wash his clothes, testifying that he has to send his laundry away from home and cook for himself.

His testimony shows that they are the parents of one son, Donald Leo, aged two years and that they were married June 19, 1920 at Chester, W. Va.

Shows Proper Use Of Powder, Rouge-- For Stage Makeup

The proper and pleasing use of powder, rouge and blue pencil was practically demonstrated to high school girls Friday afternoon by L. P. Drennon, instructor of public speaking and dramatics. He made himself up for the parts of a conventional hero, villain, aged character and juvenile.

With another instructor, Miss Ella Smith, as his subject, he showed his class the most effective way a woman should be "made-up."

For street use, said the instructor, quantities of rouge and powder are not necessary or advisable.

Plenty of cold cream should be applied before the makeup is put on in order that it may be removed readily.

LITERARY CONTEST HONORS AWARDED TO MISS CORNWALL

Miss Mary Helen Cornwall
Wins Grand Prize And
First For Essay.

EVERY CONTESTANT WORTHY OF PRAISE

Miss Tolerton Wins Short
Stories, Miss Hole
Oration Contest.

Miss Mary Helen Cornwall, Junior, won the grand prize of $1 for the best in all classes and the first prize of $15 in essays class when she competed with 12 other high school students in the second annual Brookside literary contest Friday evening at the High School auditorium. Her essay was on "Music."

The contest was divided into three classes, orations, essays and short stories, all of which were original. The prizes were: First, $15; second, $10; third, $5. Here is the list of the winners:

Orations—First, "Ideals," Miss Lucy Hole; second, "American People," Miss Ruby Tinsman; third, "World Peace," Miss Ruth Hoch.

Essays—First, "Music," Miss Mary Helen Cornwall; second, "Our Thoughts," Miss Jean Ollman; third, "The Value of Play," Miss Flora Hanna.

Short stories—First, "Connie's Chance," Miss Eleanor Tolerton; second, "While Others Danced," Miss Louise Scullion; third, "The Peer of the Gods," Eugene Hill.

The contestants are worthy of praise for their splendid composition and the way in which the subjects were delivered.

L. P. Drennon, instructor in public speaking in the high school, was chairman of the contest. The judges were Mr. Booth, Youngstown; Miss Wallace and Mr. King, Columbiana.

While the judges were making their decisions Miss Ruth Kent gave a reading and Miss Eleanor Tolerton offered a vocal solo and selections by a trio composed of L. P. Drennon, C. M. Rohrabach and Mr. Metzger, were given hearty applause.

Miss Cornwall's Essay

Excerpts from Miss Cornwall's essay follow:

"Music is the masterpiece of all expression. More universal in its appeal than all other arts, it stands superb, a wellspring to humanity. Through music generation after generation has found utterance. All the joys and sorrows of the multitudes from time immemorial have found expression in this the finest art, indeed, the most precious gift God has bestowed."

"Music has the power to speak to the hearts, even to the souls of humanity. More far reaching than the most excellent literature in that there is no need for translation. It spans the universe and holds it wrapped in (Continued on fourth page.)

GALEHOUSE SPEAKS AT WILLOW GROVE

Grangers Are Complimented
By State Speaker; Men
Arrange Program.

Willow Grove grange was complimented on its pride and the spirit manifest in its work by D. W. Galehouse, Ravenna, state grange speaker, when he told his experience of visits to granges in Columbiana county in connection with a talk on "What a Live Grange Means to a Community" at a meeting Friday evening of this grange at the hall, southwest of Salem. About 150 people were interested in the program, arranged by the men.

Mr. Galehouse pointed out that the grange is an organization through which a farmer can carry on business and he placed the responsibility with the grange lecturer to arrange programs to keep up interest in the organization. He urged the members to back up the lecture by doing the things they were asked to do.

Contests in debates, musicals, and readings in the grange were suggested by Mr. Galehouse. He emphasized that farm people should take an interest in such farm organizations as the Farm Bureau and others similar.

R. E. Thompson gave a talk relating to the disaster done by corn worms. A men's quartet contributed vocal music and the women of the grange served a lunch.

STILL DISCOVERED; OWNER FINED $200

Mike Zoccolo, 10 Newgarden st., was arrested by Officers Kirkbridge, Thompson and Bryn at 8 p. m. Friday at his home where a still and other necessities for the manufacture of liquor were discovered in the house.

The still, which was of a large capacity, and Zoccolo were loaded in the police car and brought to the city hall where Mayor Post heard Zoccolo's case. He pleaded guilty to manufacture of intoxicating liquor and was fined $200. Zoccolo paid the fine and was released.

The First Flapper Subject Of Sermon

"The First Flapper" is the topic Rev. G. A. Beers has chosen for his talk to women at the First Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. This will be the sixth message in this series of "Talks to Women About Women."

The Duty Of The State
PRESIDENT HARDING is opposed to the plan under way in New York for the repeal of all state law for the enforcement of prohibition. His position was stated and his reasons given in a letter sent to a resident of that state who had written him on the subject. The president refuses to accept as valid the claim that a state may repeal the law and the executive of that state step aside, free from responsibility for what may take place. His position on that subject is plainly stated when he says in his letter:
The executive of the nation and equally the executive of the states are sworn to enforce the constitution. It is difficult to believe that public approval ever will be given to any other than a policy of fully and literally discharging this duty.
This argument is in addition to many that have been made why Gov. Smith should veto the act of the legislature that repealed the state law of New York for the enforcement of prohibition. The influences that brought about the repeal came from one city in the state. The New York Times poll shows the upstate sentiment favoring a veto of the repeal bill. In New York city there is a clamorous demand that Gov. Smith place his signature on the measure and complete the repeal of the law.
President Harding points out the unhappiness that would inevitably follow if the federal government went into a state, set up its own machinery and began the enforcement of the federal laws on a subject. He regards the certain unhappiness to be so great that the state might well hesitate to develop a situation that would make that step necessary. The position taken by the president is logical and right and makes plain the seriousness of the step New York seeks to take, a seriousness that was not given consideration in the mad rush to repeal the law when it was before the legislature.

The Good Money Can Do
FEW people, we fancy, except in a vague way, have any adequate realization of the expenditures of the Rockefeller fund and their stupendous influence for good throughout the world.
Recently published figures disclose that in the last 19 years the fund has donated $76,757,040. From this sum medical education has benefited to the extent of $24,716,859 and public health to the extent of $18,188,838. This is driving out the immemorial agencies of disease and death after a fashion never before experienced. Not only does America enjoy this supreme beneficence, but efficient co-operation has been established with 50 foreign governments and it is vitally active in the Far East.
"For the well-being of mankind throughout the world" is the motto of this great organization, unique in the annals of history.
Money may be the root of all evil, as we have been told; it may be a curse, as philosophers have affirmed; its acquisition, or, rather, the effort expended in such acquisition, may blind the soul to higher and finer things, but it also must be said that this thing which represents value, which sends argosies across the seas, which keeps the wheels of industry turning, which stirs the race to labor and to aspire may be a blessing indefinite beyond comparison.
Mr. Rockefeller, because of his industry and his genius, and because of his ability to mold and adapt the genius of other men to his purpose, is reckoned among the richest men of the world. The title in itself is empty, but the title of world benefactor is not empty.

Proper Switch Lever for the Pocket Sets
Many amateurs are beginning to make pocket sets, but they sometimes experience difficulty in the selection of a proper switch lever and become quite puzzled because of the fact that the ordinary switch is too big for the small space allotted to it. A suitable switch for such work can be made from a binding post. The style with the rubber knob and threaded washer is best. A piece of brass is 1/2 inch high and 1 1/2 inch in thickness should be bent and made to fit the threaded screw and a steel spring which will fit loosely over the brass sleeve, procured. It will be best to cut the lever out of a springy piece of brass. On tightening the washer, the switch will never become loose.

May Obtain Improved Parts for the Radio
Dispatches from one city state that the local university will not equip the institution this term with radio equipment because its authorities believe that probable radical changes in radio apparatus make it inadvisable to purchase at this time.
Effective radio sending and transmission are dependent upon two different phases of the art, methods and equipment. No one conversant with radio engineering doubts that the story of radio is to be one of rapid progress. On the other hand, the development, it seems, is to be along the lines of improved circuits and parts rather than in its entirety.
The nature of radio apparatus is such that it permits of substitution of improved circuits and improved parts for obsolete ones. It seems unfair to students to deprive them of radio instruction and demonstration at the present time for the reason given by the college authorities. It is accomplishing marvels right now.

Stark Electric Buys Freight Locomotive

An increase in business for four months of the year over 1922 is shown by the Stark Electric railroad. The increase is in both passenger and freight service.
Increased equipment to handle the freight traffic is being installed. A new freight car has been purchased and a new electric locomotive has been ordered which will be delivered in July.
Work on the replacement of the overhead is progressing rapidly. A new trolley is being strung from Canton to Alliance. A new high tension wire is being carried to Louisville. The substitution there is being changed from 25 to 60 cycles. The high tension wire is being replaced through Sebring.

WAR ON DARWINIAN THEORY MAY SPLIT CHURCH CONCLAVE

Bryan Is Sidetracked But "Comes Back" To Carry On His Fight.

Indianapolis, May 19. — William Jennings Bryan developed today into a stormy petrel of Presbyterianism when he refused to accept the chairmanship of the committee on home-missions of the 135 general assembly, tendered him by Dr. Charles F. Wishart, who defeated Mr. Bryan in the race for moderator.
His refusal threatens to precipitate a fight between the liberals and the fundamentalists which will overshadow the other work of the assembly.
A practice of long standing gives the second man in the vote for moderator the chairmanship of the important committee on bills and overtures, the steering committee of the annual meeting.
When Dr. Wishart made up his committee assignments, however, he selected Dr. Hugh Walker, of Los Angeles, third in the moderator race, for this post. The bills and overtures committee will pass on the protest of the Philadelphia Presbytery against the doctrines preached by Harry Emerson Fosdick, a protest in which Mr. Bryan is very much interested.

him for the committee on education. — he would have a hand in acting on his expected resolution to bar teaching of evolution from all church schools, colleges and seminaries. Appointment to a committee, which automatically removed him from the education committee, but by refusing Dr. Wishart's appointment Mr. Bryan got back the other post.
He immediately announced that he would devote all his time to the fight against the Darwinian theory and against the preaching of any doctrine which denied the Virgin birth of Jesus Christ or the other fundamental interpretations of the Bible.
"I think the fight against this doctrine of evolution from a brute is more important than any work I could do on any committee," Mr. Bryan said. "I believe that the doctrine that a man is descended from a beast, a doctrine unsupported by any scientific fact and directly contrary to the Bible account of the creation, is the greatest menace facing the church today and I resigned the committee chairmanship because I wanted to be here on the convention floor all the time to carry on my fight against it."

COUNTRY TO HEAR ISSUES DEBATED

PRESIDENT, LAFOLLETTE AND OTHERS TO MAKE SPEECHES ON LEADING QUESTIONS.

DEMOCRATS ALSO PLANNING

Their Orators Likely to Discuss League of Nations on the Stump—Harding Stands Firmly for Membership in World Court.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—It is as clear as future things can make themselves that the country this summer is to hear "the various sides of various questions" which have reared their interrogation marks in the field of legislation and international relations during the last year.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin is to take to the stump to address public gatherings soon after President Harding has done the same thing. Naturally the politicians in Washington are considerably interested in this intention of the Wisconsin senator, for, as the country knows, he does not look at many matters with the same eyes that President Harding views them.

Washington has been told more or less directly that the LaFollette intention is not to trail the President on his tour nor is it his intention to make it a "set-offting campaign." The Republican leaders here, whether they be of that school of Republican thought or of another, are finally convinced, however, that the Harding and the LaFollette speeches will in considerable measure be "one against another."

The Democrats on their part expect to have a somewhat lively speechmaking summer of it. It is said arrangements are being made for speeches here, there and elsewhere by the friends of men, and perhaps even by the men themselves, who have presidential nomination ambitions or who are suspected of having them.

Will Debate League of Nations.

It is said in Washington political circles that the League of Nations will have its strong Democratic supporters on the stump during the summer, and that as a natural consequence some of the Democrats who are opposed to the league will take the stump and deliver themselves of more or less antagonistic remarks.

So it seems that if the Republicans are to have speechmaking party difficulties the Democrats also are to have them. All of the campaign this summer, as politicians here view it, will have its direct bearing on the campaign of the summer next to follow and its bearing unquestionably upon the campaign for the presidential nominations, and especially weighty bearing on that for the Democratic nomination.

Politicians in Washington are wondering today whether or not Senator LaFollette, in picking speeches out of the collection which he will carry in his traveling bag, will hit on the outline of one of his legislative plans to deprive the Supreme court of much of its power under the Constitution. It is known that President Harding is staunchly opposed to the taking away from the high tribunal any of its present power. Senators LaFollette and Borah and some others of their general school of thought are strongly in favor of constitutional amendments which will deprive the court of some of its authority.

It would seem from what some of the administration Republicans here say that, generally speaking, they would not object to giving the President an opportunity to answer arguments in favor of weakening the court's authority. It can be taken for granted, however, that the President will not in any of his speeches make it appear specifically that he is answering anything which is being said on the stump at that time by any Republican speaker whose views do not agree with his.

Harding Firm on World Court.

In his speech before the Associated Press in New York President Harding made it clear that he intends to stand by his international court proposition in the face of opposition which has come from some members of his party. This means unquestionably that he is going to carry the matter to the people. The opposition also will carry the matter to the people and this in itself will add to the general liveliness of political and party conditions one year in advance of the real campaign.

Thus far the Republican party leaders, the men charged with the work of forwarding the party's fortunes, have not taken a position either positive or negative on the world court matter. If the opposition on the part of the Republican party to the President's proposal in this matter shall take itself into hiding, it is understood in Washington that soon the Republican national committee will present, in argument form, the advantages of American membership in the court. If the opposition continues and the opponents of the plan seem to rank in numbers with its proponents, the feeling seems to be that the campaign committee may ignore the subject, although there are Republicans who say that to ignore it is the worst thing the committee can do.

Love Triangle With No Sharp Edges

Helen Gladdings and Roy Cummings

At Derby, Conn., two pretty women are trying to make one man happy. The man has been husband to one of the women and now is husband to the other.

Roy Cummings, vaudeville headliner, married Helen Gladdings, his vaudeville partner, in Bridgeton, N. J., nine years ago. They separated, and, in 1919, Cummings permitted her to divorce him.

"I gave her $1,026.600," he said. "Count it up—a $17,500 home in Freeport, L. I., a $3,500 car, a $1,000,000 baby and a $100 dog." Also, the court gave her alimony of $150 a week.

Later, Cummings married wife No. 2, Irene Shaw, who was playing with Fred Stone. They were married in Orange, N. J. All three met in swimming at Long Beach, N. Y.

The two wives became very fond of each other, and now all three live together, obeying, they say, the laws of God and man—and Cummings is saving $150 a week alimony, so wife No. 2 can have a new sealskin coat this fall.

Whit Sunday of Pentecost, one of the great festivals of the church, when the Holy Spirit was given in a wonderful way in Jerusalem, where the church began.

Holy Communion at 8:30 a. m. Sunday school at 10; morning prayer and sermon at 11 by the rector. He will also officiate at Trinity Lisbon at 9:30 a. m. Lunch will be served in the parish hall so that all can go to the annual church school rally at St. John's church, Youngstown at 2 p. m. Cars will leave the church at 1:45 and 2 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters will attend the service in a body, when addresses will be made by the rector and Frank R. Albus, former rector of the Church of Our Saviour.

First Friends, Pershing ave., Rev. M. M. Coffin, pastor—9 a. m. Christian Endeavor, Miss Olive Vincent, leader. Topic, "Something in the Bible That Has Helped Me."

9:45, Sunday school, E. I. Galdy, Supt. Special talks concerning the remodeling program.

11, morning worship. Sermon by Rev. C. E. Haworth, Van Wert, Ohio secretary of Yearly meeting board and editor of the Friends Herald.

1:30, The opportunity canvass will be made for funds to carry forward the remodeling project.

7:30, Gospel service. Sermon by Rev. Haworth. Special singing. The same "Friendly" cheer and welcome await you. Come.

First Christian, Rev. H. L. Miller, pastor—During the absence of Rev. Mr. Miller who is spending a week in Washington, D. C. and Dayton, M. E. Farr will have charge of the communion service Sunday morning. The choir will assist at this service.

Sunday school at 9:45. Arrangements for the evening service are not completed. B. F. Stanton of Alliance, who was to have filled the pulpit at this time, is not able to come and it is possible that there will be no service Sunday night unless the choir arranges to present a review of favorite hymns and anthems as a musical entertainment.

Christian Science Society, Garfield ave. and Green st.—Morning service, 11 o'clock. Subject, "Mortals and Immortals." Golden Text: Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou are also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

Sunday school for children up to the age of 20 at 9:45. Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Salvation Army, Envoy Ward in charge—Open air service at 7:15 p. m. Saturday; Sunday school at 7; preaching at 8; Young Peoples meeting at 8:15; open air at 7:30; indoor at 8. This will be a commissionary service and three local officers will each receive two commissions. They are William Harts, Lefa Ward and Elsie Jones.

A. M. E. Zion, Rev. H. S. Hicks, minister—Sunday school as usual at 9:45. Both parents and children are invited; please be on hand early as our lesson is one of great importance; 11, worship, sermon by the pastor also in the evening a short sermon and mass meeting program. You are welcome.

International Bible Students—Meetings held in the plumber's hall over the Western Union office. Berean study Sunday at 10 a. m. Mid week prayer meeting in the hall Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Emanuel Lutheran, Rev. B. E. Rutzky, pastor—Pentecost Sunday, Sunday school at 9; English service and communion at 10; German service and communion, 11.

LIGHT ON ANCIENT HISTORY

Discoveries Made in Old Tombs in Syria Reveal Important Fact Not Hitherto Known.

Two tombs about 4,000 years old have been discovered at Byblos, Syria, by the excavations being carried on under the direction of General Gouraud, the French high commissioner, according to the Paris correspondent to The London Times.

The age is established by the discovery in one of them of a harpy, a curved sword with a gold handle; a seat of gold on which is engraved the Egyptian sparrowhawk; a gold scarabaeus ring beautifully carved, and a basin box of obsidian, mounted in gold and bearing the name of Pharaoh Amenemhat of the twelfth dynasty. This is stated to be the oldest inscription discovered in Syria, and proves that commercial relations between Syria, Greece and Egypt were already active 2,000 years before our era. The first recorded conquest of Syria by Egypt was made by Thothmes I (Tethmosis) of the eighteenth dynasty during the sixteenth century, B. C.

R. B. Thompson gave a talk on "Brains" at the second annual reunion of teachers and scholars of Beechwood school Friday at the schoolhouse near the Goshen rd., attended by about 100 people. Talks were given by Mrs. Philip Wirsching and C. S. French, Salem, and Charles Kerr, Cleveland.

Reminiscences by these former teachers added interest to the program: Miss Ava Barnes, Mrs. William Ovington, Mrs. E. H. McCarty, Miss Hulda Richards, Mrs. G. J. Hawkins and Miss Ina May Azadell. Mrs. Frank Yengling read the newspaper account of the first reunion. Other numbers were: Violin solos by Walter Regal, accompanied by his sister, Miss Pearl; recitation, Noble Wells; guitar and mouthorgan selections, Frank J. Yengling.

W. H. Vonneman was re-elected president of the association. His assistant officers are: Vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Pow, Ellsworth rd.; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Kridler. It was decided to hold the 1924 reunion on the third Friday in June.

"Asbestos King" Caught In Women's Trap?

Charles B. Manville

Following the arrest of Mrs. Myrtle B. Hayes, modiste and milliner, of many cities, charged with forging the names of Charles M. Schwab to huge notes, C. B. Manville, New York "asbestos king" and aged founder of the H. W. Jones-Manville company, a multi-millionaire, came forward with the statement that a coterie of shrewd women has "milked" him of hundreds of thousands in similar transactions and had caught others for millions by illegal use of his name. The 89-year-old man's son said his aged father had been the unfortunate dupe of women in oil deals.

Shark That Swam in Kansas Sea. Agassizodus variabilis, a shark from Kansas, will soon have his once wicked teeth brought to foodless rest in the National museum. Dr. George P. Merrill, curator of geology, has received as a gift from Dr. Frank Springer the paleontological collections of the late Orestes St. John which contained the fossil remains of this unique fish, which chased its prey through a Kansas sea many million years ago.

The cartilaginous body of the shark disintegrated, but a complete set of teeth, such as has never been found elsewhere, remained in the coal measures of Kansas to tell his story. Doctor St. John gave the name Agassizodus to his find in honor of the famous Harvard naturalist, Louis Agassiz, who was his teacher.

"However much music has the power to inspire the hearts of men toward the idealistic and sacred things of life, it has also the power to lower the standards and morals of men to base and degrading levels. The United States today is being ruled by the latter power. During and since the war has not our country been passing through a period spoken of as the 'jazz age'? Jazz dancing did not bring jazz music, the music brought the dance.

"It is true, America is a free country, but after all what is freedom? It is certainly not being enmeshed in a net of illusions where youth revels in froth only to drink the dregs at his awakening. Should the United States of America, a country which has held the highest standards of the world, decline under the debasing influence of this sensual music? To do so would be to desecrate the master art of our Creator.

"Music portrays the deepest and inmost feelings of the heart. What tenderness there is in the mother's low, gentle lullaby. Wagner in his compositions has presented such awful depths of yearnings, the anguish and passion as well as the tenderness and faithfulness of love, the agony of despair, and then peace—peace found in immortality."

Miss Hole's Oration

The following was taken from Miss Hole's oration:

"What is an ideal? It is the highest point of accomplishment to which our hopes can carry us. Every man has some conception of a state of perfection which he believes himself capable of attaining. An ideal is a constant inspiration because it is bigger than we are. When we have won something for which we have striven it should cease to be an ideal. If it does not we are living backwards.

"We have heard it said 'watch the little things and the big things will take care of themselves.' I say, watch the big things and the little perplexities will assume their natural proportions.

"High ideals are essential to happiness. Will a man whose sole purpose is to help right the wrongs of a selfish world become fretful because his breakfast is not cooked to his liking? Will a woman whose purpose is to teach right living to others be turned aside because the weather looks unpromising?"

"Let us set up as our ideals the things that really count. Let us cease to plug our minds with unworthy ambitions and devote our efforts to improving what is imperfect. Let us all choose some wide sphere of usefulness for which to prepare ourselves."

DAMASCUS

Three classes of the Damascus high school enjoyed parties Friday night. The Seniors assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Redman where they toasted marshmallows and wieners and played games out of doors. Other refreshments were served in the Redman home.

The Sophomores held their party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Crew with 14 in attendance. A wieners and marshmallow roast and games provided entertainment.

The Freshmen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Swartz at their home near Garfield, the guests numbering 15. A lunch and games were diversions.

The Damascus high school boys played a game of baseball Friday with the Beloit team, Damascus winning. The score was 5-4.

A number of Damascus high school students went to Canfield Saturday where they attended the county track and field meet. Damascus was not entered in this meet on account of lack of practices.

Fred Chambers and Miss Nora Peoples, with several Alliance friends visited in Cuyahoga Falls Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Shipman are spending the week end in Washington.

Mrs. V. M. Chambers entertained the members of the Helping Hand class of the Friends church at her home Saturday afternoon. Mrs. D. V. Chambers and Mrs. W. K. Talbot were invited guests and a fine lunch was served by the hostess.

NEW USE FOR A PHONOGRAPH

W. E. Wiberg, manager of the Royal theater has installed the latest model Cheney phonograph in his theater.

The machine was purchased from the Perkins Music Co. after considerable experimenting by Mr. Perkins in using different tubes. They were able to carry the sound about 45 feet from the machine, which makes it possible for the music to be heard in all parts of the theater.

It is Mr. Wiberg's intention to give the movie fans of Salem the very latest in high class music while attending the shows at his theater.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

On account of the May Day entertainment by our public schools Wednesday, May 23, we will close our stores that day at 12 o'clock. Closed all day May 30, Decoration Day. Our stores will be closed on Wednesday afternoons during the months of June, July, August and September.

Prompt delivery service, like prompt pay, makes good friends.

Our customers can help their grocer and butcher and at the same time be helping themselves to get this prompt delivery service by getting their orders in at least a half hour before delivery time. We know that you don't realize that because you don't get your order in until just time for the delivery to start that there are probably 50 others doing the same thing. This makes it hard to give to give as good service as we want to give you.

All orders for morning delivery should be in not later than 8:30 a. m. Afternoon orders should be in before 2 p. m. Yours for better service.

MOORE PRESENTS SCHOOL CHARTER

High Pupils Give Play And
3 Graduates Receive
Their Diplomas.

Washingtonville, May 19.—(Spt.)—The Women's class of the Methodist Sunday school, taught by Mrs. S. Tingle, entertained in a delightful manner the men and women of the church Friday evening in the church parlors. About 40 were in attendance. A "Cock Relay" proved highly entertaining and other games were featured.

Wild flowers graced the tables at which a delicious lunch was served. Rev. C. C. Davis acted as toast master and costs were given by A. L. Taylor, D. S. Klingensmith and Mrs. S. Tingle.

High School Play

The school auditorium was filled to capacity Thursday evening when the high school presented the play "Professor Pepp" by Walter DeJare. The play is a farce comedy with a college flavor, and was given in three acts.

A. J. Garrett, principal of the Washingtonville school, as "Prof. Pepp," had returned from Russia for the opening of school, escaping the anarchists. Fearing their coming he sought the protection of "Simon Batty," the town marshal. This role was exceptionally well handled by Kenneth DeJare.

Walter Taylor, as C. B. Buttonbaster, aged 48, and his disgraced son, Howard (Donald Smith) both seeking to marry the professor's ward, Betty Gardner, caused serious complications, when Aunt Minerva Boulder, discovered old Buttonbaster to be the lover who had deserted her 29 years before.

Much merriment was furnished by Florence Tingle, as Petunia Muggins, the hired girl, who is in love with the marshal.

The role of Olga Stoski, the Russian talk-show teacher, was ably carried by Mary Needham, who came to the professor's assistance by clearing all mystery regarding the Russian nihilists. The clearing of the mystery permitted the marriage of old Buttonbaster and Aunt Minerva (Nora Senior), and of his son, Howard and Betty Gardner, (Elsie Senior).

Others taking part were Maria King, Ethel Richards, Alice Hanna, Wilbur Vignoe, Frank Stauffer, Edwin Rowen, Alfred Rohrer and Mildred Frankford.

Receive Charter

After the play a second grade high school charter was presented the school by County Superintendent J. W. Moore. This was accepted in behalf of the school by C. R. Taylor. Diplomas were granted Nora Senior, Edwin Rowen and Albert Luciel who completed the three year course.

The Little Misses Doris and Charlotte King, of Salem, pleased with a butterfly dance and readings. Music was furnished by a Salem orchestra.

Mrs. Reese Hostess

Mrs. Morris Reese entertained the members of the Fortnight Sewing club in her home Friday evening. The evening was spent in fancywork and a lunch was served.

OBITUARY

Alfred E. McDowney

After an illness of two weeks Alfred E. McDowney, 31, died at the Alliance City hospital at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday. He was born in Salem, April 4, 1892, and had been a resident of Alliance for the past ten years.

Besides his wife, formerly Martha Myers of Alliance, he is survived by a daughter, Lorena Mae, two years old; his father, William McDowney of Ballou; a sister, Mrs. Elsie Hinkman; and a brother, Harry McDowney, both of Alliance.

Mr. McDowney was in active overseas service for 16 months during the World war. Upon his return he was employed as a meat cutter with John Senn & Son and at the present time was with the M. H. Steele market.

Funeral service was at 2 p. m. Saturday at the house with military service at the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 in charge of the American Legion.

Wilbur Gintz

Wilbur Gintz, for several years identified with the men's clothing trade and formerly of Salem, is dead at his home in Uhrichsville. He died following an operation Thursday in a hospital at Coshocton.

Gintz at the time of his death was display manager for a string of clothing stores for the Buckeye Clothing Co., with headquarters in Coshocton. Five years ago he was identified with the Golden Eagle Clothing company here.

His mother, Margaret Gintz, survives. Burial was Saturday in Uhrichsville.

Funeral Notice

Funeral service for Mrs. Silas Pepp, who resides south of Leetonia, near Ston 23 on the Y. & O. railroad line, will be at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home. Interment in Caladale cemetery, Leetonia.

Standard Oil Magnate Is Declared Incompetent.

Charles M. Pratt

Charles M. Pratt, a New York, multimillionaire member of the "Big Five" that made Standard Oil the greatest business in the world, has been declared incompetent, by a New York court, to manage his vast interests, which have been placed in the hands of a committee. He is 68 years old and for several months has been under the care of alienists.

IDENTIFIES WOMAN AS CLARA PHILLIPS

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19.—The women held at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, as Clara Phillips, wanted here for the slaying of Albert Meadows, is positively the "hammer murderer."

This was definitely established today when a cablegram was received from Walter Hunter, one of the deputy sheriffs sent to Central America to return the woman, if she proved to be Mrs. Phillips, declaring it was she. Hunter's message read: "It's Clara."

DEATH AT THE STEERING WHEEL

"Good heavens, Jim, you almost got that child!"
"Well, I didn't, did I?" snarled the man at the wheel, pale and quaking. "Close thing, though, I'll say; but honest, I never saw her till she was nearly under."

"Exactly," responded his friend in level tones. "You'd have been a murderer, no less; and all because you're too obstinate to get those wretched eyes of yours examined. You know that you can't see things down the street worth a cent!"

"All nonsense! Why, I can read without any trouble—and if I can read I can drive!"

Yet—four accidents had been marked up against him. That eternal effort to adjust shortsighted eyes to distance interfered with his ability to apply brakes and shift gears quickly. It cut down the swiftness and sureness with which his hands and feet responded to the brain message that carried "Stop!" Although he could read, he was incapacitated for safe driving.

Every second car you see is driven by a person who needs glasses. Don't wait for a law compelling every driver to have his eyes examined before he is granted a driver's license. If you drive a car, you owe it to yourself and to humanity, to have your eyes examined today.

WINS BRIDE BY CROSS-CONTINENT HOP

Lieut. MacReady, his mother, Mary Watson & Lieut. Kelly

Lieut. Oakley Kelly, U. S. army air service, has long been in love with Miss Mary Watson, a pretty San Diego (Calif.) girl but she wouldn't marry him until he had flown across the continent in a non-stop flight. When he and Lieut. MacReady, in their first attempt, were forced down at Indianapolis, Kelly vowed he'd succeed. In their next attempt they flew from New York to San Diego in 27 hours, and Miss Watson was there to greet her fiance. Mrs. MacReady, mother of the other flier, was worried only because the houp "John" carried from New York wasn't as good as she would have made it.

HERRICK SUPREME AS HIGHWAY HEAD SAYS OHIO COURT

Columbus, May 19.—Director of Highways Leon C. Herrick will resign virtually supreme in control of Ohio's highway building program if there is no modification of decision handed down by the supreme court today. He will not have to worry about restraining edicts from the governor's office and if he makes a contract it will stand, unless error or fraud are made manifest.

This effect is produced, for the time at least, by the action of the court in overruling denunciations filed by the attorney general in behalf of Director of Finance W. E. Baker, to petitions seeking writs of mandamus under which, if issued, Baker would be compelled to approve a contract for a Jackson county highway job awarded to Oather M. Junk of Chillicothe, and to certify for payment of the estimates on four highway jobs in Lorain county.

The decisions, concurred in by six of the seven judges—Judge Wanda-maker did not participate—hold the director of finance to be without jurisdiction in the making of highway contracts or in regulating policies of the highway departments. It was the contention of Director Baker that the administrative re-organization code, under which his department and seven other administrative divisions were formed by Gov. Harry L. Davis in 1921, vested him with power to approve or disapprove highway contracts and vouchers for payments thereunder.

This the court denies emphatically.

SALEM SCOUT ACTIVITIES

BOY SCOUTS

Representatives from each troop of Boy Scouts, are being selected by the scoutmasters, to take part in unveiling the tablets at Reilly field, during the May day fete next Wednesday.

Frederick Koenreich, Roland Weber and Jean Litty, former scouts and charter members of Troop 1, are voluntarily assisting Commissioner Chamberlin in the detail work connected with the troops. The years of training in scout activities has made them efficient in handling most any situation for which they may be called upon. Consent of council is being sought to have them officially appointed as deputies.

Invitation has been extended the Boy and Girl Scouts to take part, as usual, in the Memorial day exercises. Because of the particularly close feeling existing between the G. A. R. and the Boy Scouts, the scouts are always glad to act in any way that will even partially express the very great respect felt for their elder comrades.

A recent news item purporting to come from the commissioner states that Troop 2 and 4 are not registered and will not take part in the County Rally June 9.

These two troops are registered and officially in good standing. Some members of Troop 2 though without a scoutmaster, are determined to enter, and Troop 4 emphatically stated they are in to win.

Reports from Salem troops are encouraging in their tone, leading to the belief that the rest of the county will have to look well to their laurels.

Tuesday night practice was held by Troop 1 for the field meet. A lot of good material turned out for the practice and a lot of these fellows will be used in the meet.

A hike to the cabin will be held Sunday, starting at 1 o'clock. Everybody out.

The boys are to go to the Stark Electric station to go out on the 1 o'clock car.

10,000 ROTARIANS TO MEET IN JUNE

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—This city is preparing to entertain 10,000 or more delegates, who, it is estimated, will attend the 14th annual convention of Rotary International here, June 18 to 23.

The primary issue that will be discussed at the annual gathering has to do with the proposed development of programs for the introduction of standard codes of ethical practices in all lines of business and the professions represented by Rotary club memberships.

Administrative problems of vital importance to the organization are also expected to be given free discussion. The number of Rotary clubs has almost tripled in the last five years.

Addresses are to be delivered at the convention by Vice President Walter Head, of the American Bankers' association; Sidney Pascal, London manufacturer; Sherman Rogers, of New York, and many other prominent business men.

GREAT AIR FLEET FOR BRITAIN MAY VIOLATE TREATY

Washington, May 19.—Great Britain has found a way "to get around" the Washington 1919 naval treaty and to meet the overwhelming supremacy of France in the air.

Debarred from unlimited construction of naval airplane carriers by the arms conference treaty, the British admiralty has under consideration plans for the promotion of a gigantic fleet of commercial "airplane liners" convertible over-night into warcraft, information obtained by the navy department disclosed today.

High naval officials were skeptical as to whether the "airplane liner" proposal, advanced by Sir Eustace D'Eyncourt, chief construction engineer of the British navy, does not violate the spirit of the Washington treaty, although they freely admitted it contains no infraction of a literal interpretation.

From London comes the information England is to spend $100,000,000 to equal France's great air fighting machine. To transport its airplanes, carriers far in excess of the 135,000 ton limitation fixed in the 1919 treaty are necessary. Hence, naval officials pointed out, the necessity of "getting around" the restriction provision of the pact. The treaty contains no reference to commercial airplane carriers.

To convert D'Eyncourt's "airplane liners" into naval carriers meeting every requirement of war, it would only be necessary to replace commercial airplanes with fighting planes. Naval officials regard the proposal of D'Eyncourt as having semi-official weight. They declared his plans for the commercial carriers follow in detail specifications of the British admiralty for naval carriers.

From information obtained through London sources naval experts concluded that a plan will be brought forth by the British admiralty providing liberal subsidy to commercial steamship companies for the building of commercial airplane carriers. It might be decided to convert many British liners into airplane carriers.

Russian Typhus Toll May Reach 4 Million

Washington, May 19. — Between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 persons have died of typhus in Russia since 1918. Dr. Ludwik Rajchman, director of the health section of the league of nations, told the national conference of social work, adding that while typhus is waning with improvement in the economic situation, a new epidemic of dangerous malaria is sweeping the nation.

"Nine million cases of malaria have occurred," he said, "and in some localities the disease has been of such a virulent type that 40 out of 100 cases died."

Kipling Again Wins King George's Favor

London, May 19.—Rudyard Kipling, who, according to gossip, lost his poet laureateship as a result of writing the "Widow of Windsor," in the Barrack Room Ballads, is now one of King George's most intimate associates.

It is reported that Kipling may soon be raised to the post which he forfeited through a youthful faux pas.

Saw 200 Children Pray To American Flag.

Miss Jessie Way, who has just returned to her home in Whittier, Cal., after serving as a worker for the Near East relief, took 400 orphan children from burning Smyrna to Constantinople. As their boat came alongside the Near East relief warehouse dock 200 of the youngest children, worn out with fear and suffering from their terrible experience, fell on their knees on the deck and prayed to the big American flag on the warehouse for help and protection.

One human generation is figured at about 25 years. Our fly-generation is about seven or eight days.

Retail Food Costs Show An Increase

Washington, May 19.—An average increase of 1 per cent in the retail cost of food to the average family in April over March was reported today by the department of labor.

The largest increases included cabbage, 27 per cent; potatoes, 14 per cent; granulated sugar, 4 per cent; sirloin steak, round steak and flour, 2 per cent. Eggs, cheese, raisins, plate beef, butter, prunes, bacon, wheat cereal and bananas decreased in price.

For the year April 15, 1922, to April 15, 1923, there was an increase of 3 per cent in all food commodities combined. For the 10-year period the increase amounted to 46 per cent.

LIGHT AND POWER PLANT

Easy to Operate

The day is past when the farmer who buys an electric light and power unit must also hire an electrician and a mechanic to keep it going. Westinghouse has developed a Farm Light and Power Plant whose simplicity in design has made it possible for any one with only a very limited knowledge of mechanics to operate it.

When you stop to think about it, it is not at all surprising for the Westinghouse Farm Light and Power Plant to perform all the functions required of an isolated light and power unit and yet be easy to operate, because Westinghouse has been a leader for so many years in developing and simplifying electrical machinery.

After long and thorough experiments under actual operating conditions, the Westinghouse Farm Light and Power Plant has proven its ability to light your farm and to furnish the power that will cut your labor costs in two.

We are glad to have this particular light and power plant to distribute in this community. Let us tell you the whole story. We can convince you that it means comfort, convenience and labor-saving to any farmer, and, what is more important, to the farmer's wife.

The Man Who Talked At Random

HE sat in the window-corner of the Pullman's smoking-compartment, and breathed fatly and uttered large opinions in a suety voice. It grew late, as so often it does; and he put the quietus on a discussion with the ponderous statement:

"I don't read advertisements. They have no effect on me at all. I'd never miss them if they stopped printing 'em."

Then he glanced at his advertised watch and sought his lower-berth.

In the morning the ad-skeptic contorted himself out of his advertised pajamas into his advertised underwear, drew on his advertised socks, adjusted them with his advertised garters, got into his advertised clothes, laced his advertised shoes and added himself to the congestion in the wash-room.

Then he shaved with an advertised razor, using advertised shaving cream; brushed his teeth with an advertised toothbrush and advertised dental cream, washed with advertised soap, and brushed his hair with an advertised brush. Buttoning his advertised collar on an advertised button, he knotted his advertised tie, gave his advertised suspenders a tug or two, and finished dressing.

Let us leave him there, this man who never reads advertisements!

Everything worth using is advertised! Everything that isn't, rarely is.

RULING SOUGHT BY DONAHEY

Wants to Know Whether Ohio
Senate Is in Session.

PUTS PROBLEM UP TO CRABBE

Asks for Decision Regarding Vacancies He Will Be Required to Fill During His Term of Office—Attorney General's Ruling in Marshall Case Adverse to the Governor, State Affairs.

Columbus, May 19.—Governor Donahey, who has been thwarted in his attempt to appoint a successor to Charles C. Marshall as state utilities commissioner, has requested Attorney General Crabbe to render an opinion regarding other vacancies he will be required to fill during his term of office. The attorney general's opinion covering the status of Commissioner Marshall leaves the latter in undisputed possession of his position, it being held that the appointment of a successor was made during the active transaction of business by the legislature and was rejected by the senate at that time. It made no ruling covering other state officials whose terms will expire during the governor's current administration and leaves the question of the latter's authority to appoint successors in doubt.

The situation arises as a result of the action of the legislature in recessing for "five minutes" on April 28, with the understanding that the five minutes would end in practical application at 1:30 p. m., Dec. 31, 1924, unless the Republican presiding officers of the two branches see fit to recall the members before that time in case "there would arise a reasonable cause for the assembly to meet."

In his letter to the attorney general the governor cites a specific instance in which an appointment is necessary and asks whether an appointment made in this instance will be valid. He says: "A vacancy has arisen on the board of trustees of the Ohio State university by expiration of the term of C. F. Ketterling of Dayton, on May 13, 1923. The appointment of a successor is subject to the advice and consent of the senate. In view of the provision of section 12 of the general code, relative to such appointments, would a successor appointed by me at this time have the authority to assume the duties of the position before confirmation by the senate?"

The governor also cites the action of the assembly on April 28 in recessing "for five minutes" and at the same time adopting a resolution providing for the five minutes to end on Dec. 31, 1924, averring: "It is difficult to ascertain from the senate journal of April 28 whether the senate is in session or not." He concludes: "It is clear from the records that the senate did not want to adjourn, but for reasons of its own wanted to be considered as remaining in recess. The question now arises whether it is in session or not within the meaning of the provisions of section 12 of the general code, relative to appointments while the senate is in session and when it is not in session."

Arthur L. Stewart, former commissioner of the state division of securities, issued a statement denying that his successor in office had found a shortage in his financial accounts upon his resignation last January. The statement follows the publication of a report made to Governor Donahey by Cyrus G. Locher, state director of commerce and the legal head of the securities division under the reorganization code, which report criticized Mr. Stewart's alleged negligence in failing to cash checks and drafts covering fees for securities dealers' and agents' license fees, and in not posting payments of these fees in his books.

Mr. Stewart said: "At no time during my administration did there exist a shortage and there did not exist one at the time of my resignation." Declaring that nearly $48,000 of the $48,186 held in the division's files was received as renewal fees for dealers and added agents, Stewart explains that although dealers' license fees are renewable annually, agents' license are renewable without fee, and that if agents licensed the previous year are dropped by their employers it is necessary to notify the division and pay a revocation fee of $2 for each agent dropped.

"This means that at every renewal period approximately 15,000 to 20,000 agents' names must be checked with the records of the division to determine the correctness of the amount of the check received," said Stewart. "In a great majority of the cases the original checks received were for an erroneous amount and after checking back to the records the check is returned to the applicant with the correct amount stated and a new check is requested."

"Inasmuch as there is but one office record of agents it is impossible to put more than two people to work upon this checking and further, inasmuch as funds deposited in the state treasury in error can not be refunded it is manifestly impossible to make a deposit to the state treasury of these checks with the agents registered."

That he made "a very definite effort to have this checking expedited as rapidly as possible" before his resignation on Jan. 26 and that he presumes "that had it been possible to have deposited the renewal checks earlier than they were deposited the present administration would have done so," is Stewart's declaration, adding that the "criticism of the system is entirely justified and my predecessors devoted a good deal of time to try to evolve a system to eliminate the delay in depositing but were unable to do so." He suggests that remedy might lie in requiring all agents' fees to be renewed annually.

Checks and drafts were not posted because the examiners were checking the records at the time and up to the day of his resignation and it was at the request of the examiners that no posting was done, Stewart avers.

According to Director of Agriculture Truax, county fairs in Ohio are going to get back to what they were intended to be, educational institutions, and crooked concessions will be barred. The legislature passed a bill providing concessionaires must have the approval of the state agricultural department and be licensed after they have proven their shows to be moral. The effect of this law will help the county attractions a great deal, says Truax. The fake freak "attractions" will cease to be a part of the fair, he added. The 1923 descendant of the old shell game will be taboo as will other devices of chance which have never smelled too good to the better class of fair attendants, although they paid the local boards good concession fees.

A bureau of criminal identification will be created within the state welfare department this summer, as authorized by the recent legislature. At the head of this department must be a man of experience, according to Governor Donahey, Welfare Director Harper and Representative Paul Herbert, Columbus, author of the bill. If this department comes up to the hopes of its advocates, the road of the fugitive from justice will be harder.

Under the new law, when a person is arrested for a felony his fingerprints, Bertillon measurements and photograph must be forwarded the state division of criminal identification. The chief of the department will then check this record against the state, national and international criminal records and measurements he is to have on file. If the alleged felon is wanted in other states or has a previous record his prosecution will be made easier and his identification certain. In case an innocent man is arrested, his record is to be returned to him upon his exoneration. A constant interchange of information and records will be carried on between the Ohio department and that in other states and cities. For this reason, the man the state wants to act as chief must be one of wide knowledge in criminology and identification. The salary is $3,600.

Governor Donahey is without authority to make "recess" appointments of officials whose appointments require the "advice and consent" of the Ohio senate, according to a decision rendered by Attorney General Crabbe.

The governor raised the question in a request to Crabbe for a decision on the status of C. C. Marshall of Sidney, Democrat, member of the utilities commission, whose six-year term expired Feb. 1. Donahey named W. A. Hopkins of Cincinnati to succeed Marshall, but the senate rejected the appointment.

In his opinion, the attorney general holds that Marshall is not entitled to pay at the rate of $6,000 a year, but at $4,500 a year, because the salary was raised by a legislative act effective prior to the expiration of his term. Marshall is now legally exercising the duties of his office, despite the expiration of his term, Crabbe held. The attorney general also pointed out that Marshall's term expired when the senate was in session and transacting business. Under such circumstances, therefore, Marshall will continue in office until a successor is approved by the senate.

How far the opinion affects the status of other officials, including Highway Director Herrick and a number of trustees of state-supported colleges, whose terms will expire during Donahey's administration, still remains in doubt. In the case of these officials the question arises as to whether the Ohio senate, which did not adjourn, but recessed "for five minutes," is or is not in session. Crabbe's opinion does not go into this question and another ruling or a court decision may be required to settle the point. Authorities and court decisions on the question are said to be divided.

Attorney General Daugherty, who is at his home here, declined to discuss the report from Washington that he is retiring from his role as President Harding's political manager. He indicated, however, that he might have something to say upon the subject "later." Washington dispatches said this while personal relations between the president and Daugherty are as cordial as ever, ill health of the latter forbids constant application to political generalship.

Speaking Of Money Think What Ford's Wealth Would Make

Washington, May 19.—Henry Ford's annual income, if piled in dollars in the shape of an obelisk, would build a silver shaft the size of the Washington monument.

In a single string, edge to edge, his income dollars would extend 1,065 miles, or nearly half as far as Kelley and Macready flew across the country in the army monoplane. They would reach from New Orleans to the Ford plant at Detroit and twice as far as from New York to the home of his famous products.

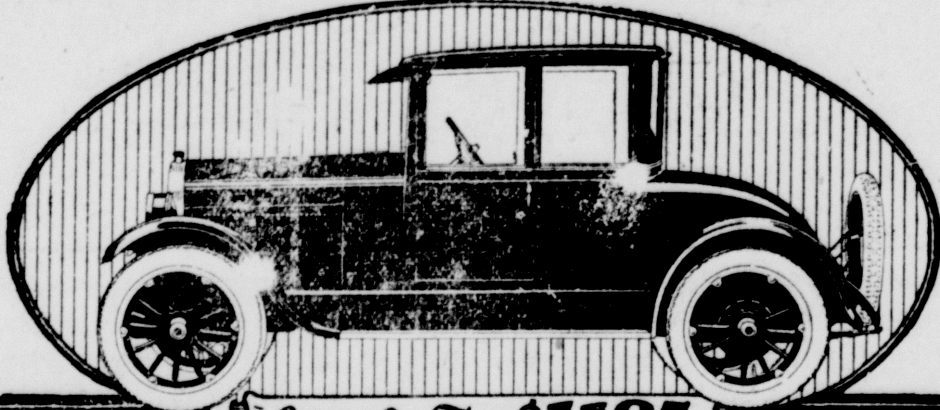

If Ford's income were in pennies they would make an edge to edge reach 33 times as far as the dollars and if he should decide to move to China and change his funds into the native coin he nearly could negotiate the 33,000,000 miles to the sun.

Ford's personal income tax figures, like all other folks' are a government secret. Consequently nobody who knows is permitted to tell just what his return is or the amount he pays to the United States. But from the statements of the business done by the Ford Motors Company some idea of his enormous wealth may be obtained.

He is believed to be raking in the dollars at the rate of close to $50,000,000 a year. If $50,000,000, he is paying the government 58 per cent of it or $28,970,640. If $40,000,000, his tax is $23,170,640.

Now Ford appears to have passed Croesus, Rockefeller and Carnegie in the race for coin. John D. Rockefeller dropped out of the race by giving away a billion, so he has only about $300,000,000 left, while Ford is worth twice as much. Andrew Carnegie is said to have amassed $300,000,000, much of which went back to the people through Carnegie libraries.
